Oncology Nurses Symposium

28TH ANNUAL

SUNDAY, SEPTEMBER 28 -
WEDNESDAY, OCTOBER 1, 2008

MARRIOTT MISSION VALLEY • SAN DIEGO, CALIFORNIA

DEAR COLLEAGUES,

Scripps Cancer Center is pleased to invite you to the 28th Annual Oncology Nurses Symposium, one of the nation's leading oncology nursing symposiums.

During this three and a half day conference, you will benefit from an intimate learning environment where renowned faculty will present the latest in oncology care. In addition to the rich educational program, you will appreciate the venue's comfort and exceptional service, along with a well organized format allowing for ample free time to enjoy San Diego's many charms.

We are committed to offering an exceptional clinical conference that you won't want to miss. We look forward to seeing you in the fall!

Kindest regards,

Scripps Cancer Center Program Committee

EDUCATIONAL OBJECTIVES

After attending this conference, participants should be able to:

- Explain the rationale for targeted oral agents in cancer care.
- Discuss the specialized techniques and nursing interventions used in the diagnosis and treatment of various types of cancers including myelodysplastic syndrome, head and neck, brain and breast cancers.
- Explore cultural challenges related to prostate cancer in the African American male population.
- Recognize the role of pathology in disease identification and treatment.
- Describe the role of pharmacogenomics in cancer and its impact in nursing practice.
- Summarize professional nursing practice issues regarding ethics, chemotherapy administration and advocating for palliative and hospice care.
- Identify new and emerging methods used in early detection and prevention of cancer.
- State the latest advances in bone marrow transplantation.
- Incorporate evidence-based interventions to help patients manage side effects related to treatment.
- Recognize the needs of the cancer survivor and unique issues facing adults under 40.
- Rediscover the oncology nurses' distinct contribution to the health care profession.
