Scripps Green Hospital

Since its founding in 1977, Scripps Green Hospital has been recognized for outstanding care and a number of important medical milestones, including establishing the first liver transplant program in San Diego and being the nation’s first hospital to use stem cell transplants as a treatment for blood and marrow disorders.

The hospital offers comprehensive cancer treatment; cardiology care; orthopedic surgery, bariatric surgery; comprehensive sleep medicine; and liver, kidney and stem cell transplants.

With 173 licensed beds and more than 1,400 employees, Scripps Green campus includes Scripps Clinic Torrey Pines, which is home to more than 50 medical and surgical specialties; the Anderson Outpatient Pavilion; the Shiley Musculoskeletal Center; the Scripps Center for Integrative Medicine; and an on-site pharmacy.

Recent Accolades For Scripps Green

- 100 Great Hospitals in America, Becker’s Hospital Review (2014)
Latest Additions

A major renovation of the Emily Fenton Hunte Breast Care Center in 2014 expanded the outpatient unit to 4,700 square feet, including five treatment rooms with state-of-the-art technology, three mammography suites, two ultrasound rooms and a stereotactic suite. Located on the third floor of the hospital, the center was designed to care for patients’ emotional needs as well as their physical needs by taking advantage of natural lighting and remarkable ocean views to create a calming and soothing environment.

The Donald P. and Darlene V. Shiley Musculoskeletal Center opened in the fall of 2014 and centralizes orthopedic surgery, neurosurgery, sports medicine, podiatry, rheumatology and research on the first floor of the Anderson Outpatient Pavilion. The project was supported by a $5 million gift from Darlene Shiley for advanced orthopedic care and research.

The need for orthopedic services will only grow in the coming years as the population ages and more people seek ways to maintain an active, mobile lifestyle. Musculoskeletal services already account for more than 100,000 patient visits at Scripps Clinic annually.

Education and Training

As a major teaching center, Scripps Green is the primary site for the clinical education of 36 residents and more than 30 fellows each year. The hospital also supports educational programs for student nurses (clinical rotations), radiological technologists, emergency medical technicians and paramedics, and pharmacy and psychology post-doctoral training.
