As the incidence of melanoma continues to rise rapidly in the United States and around the world, the need to educate clinicians from various specialties on the disease also increases. During this course nationally recognized experts will present information on prevention, risk assessment, early detection, genetic factors, and current and future treatment choices for melanoma patients. Issues concerning surgical management, adjuvant therapy, advanced disease therapy, and personalizing the course of treatment for individual patients will also be discussed. This course is designed to provide information that will help clinicians in their decision making regarding these difficult patient problems. The course will be taught by a wide range of experts as this most serious of skin cancers will require multi-disciplinary efforts to conquer.

Conference Highlights
- Plenary talks from nationally recognized experts
- Case presentations and expert discussion
- Ample question and answer time with course faculty
- Networking opportunities among colleagues
- Conference app with access to course materials and recordings from the convenience of your mobile device or computer

Download the Scripps CME app for your smart phone or tablet!
All conference information including a detailed agenda, faculty listing, faculty disclosures, industry support, attendee list, and course materials can be found on the free Scripps CME conference app for smartphones, tablets and laptop computers. To download the app on your smartphone or other device visit the appropriate app store and search ScrippsCME (must be one word). The app is free of charge and will be continuously updated during and after the course.
