The Art of Ostomy Care Saturday, March 19, 2016 San Diego, California

COURSE OVERVIEW

This first Ostomy Conference is designed for RNs and LVNs with the intent to provide fundamental principles involved in caring for patients with ostomies. Nursing experts will discuss the unique needs of these patients and will review the different types of ostomies. Presentations will cover why surgical intervention is needed and how different techniques are performed. Ostomates will share their life experiences and discuss topics such as intimacy and traveling challenges. Tips and techniques for pouch application will be provided by ostomy experts to increase the clinician's confidence and ensure patient satisfaction. A safe learning environment will be offered to practice pouching techniques and learn how to prevent skin breakdown around the stoma. The course will also address product selection as well as how to trouble shoot pouching challenges and peristomal skin complications. After attending the conference, clinicians will have increased their knowledge about ostomy care and return to their facilities ready to share what they have learned in order to improve the quality of care for their patients.

CONFERENCE HIGHLIGHTS

- Nationally known expert ostomy nurses will present and be available for questions and interaction.
