About the Conference

Course Overview
Scientific evidence has shown that food choices and certain supplements can improve health and symptoms of disease. As a result, many Americans are self-prescribing and spending in excess of $30 billion annually on herbal and dietary supplements to address their health concerns. It is important for health care providers to receive timely, evidence-based information in order to address the risks and benefits of supplements with their patients. In this dynamic partnership with patients, providers also need information about regulatory issues, dosing and product potency.  To address these needs, world-renowned faculty will present a concise, clinically relevant overview of natural supplements in evidence-based practice, with an emphasis on disease states.

This medical education event is a must-attend for anyone wanting to acquire a wide-range of knowledge and expertise for addressing and managing dietary supplement use.

Course Highlights
- Three days of evidenced-based educational courses presented by leading experts
- Full day of interactive workshops to fine tune clinical applications
- Emphasis on disease states
- Opportunities to network with faculty and fellow attendees to build relationships with like-minded practitioners
